

During spring / summer 2011, Woodrow builders undertook our building project including pitching 2 flat roofs, rendering and cladding the property, replacing the windows and doors, adding a new conservatory, and replacing external drains. Pete initially visited our property and immediately had some excellent design suggestions, which we added to the plans. He and his colleagues started on the date set, and attended promptly each day, working hard throughout. Pete was always available either personally or by phone for advice at each step of the project. The work was undertaken with great care towards the house and our family throughout, and the workmanship at all times was outstanding. If any unexpected issues arose, Pete made time to explain the best way to resolve them. I have to say it would be difficult finding any fault with Woodrow builders; the end product looks fantastic, and we have had no problems since the works were completed. Pete and colleagues are very professional in outlook, excellent craftsmen, totally trustworthy, and really nice chaps too. I wouldn't have or recommend anyone else for a building project, and can't recommend their quality highly enough.

Best wishes
